

This is absolutely ridiculous. Most people are merely trying to impress people that they are important, or calling for a ride or letting someone know that they landed. why cant they wait for another 3 minutes. What did we do prior to cell phones get a grip and say no to his proposal, in the name of security and sanity.

Marsha Werner